

CITY SWEEPED AWAY BY RAGING FLOOD

DEADLY WORK OF A CLOUD-BURST IN OHIO.

Darkness Prevents Rescue — Crab Creek, Near Youngstown, Becomes a Torrent and Rushes Upon the Residents of the City — Many Thought to Have Perished.

Youngstown, O., July 23. — At 7 o'clock Thursday night a terrific cloud-burst struck this town, flooding the entire valley, and causing great damage to property, both in the city and along the railway lines. Many persons are supposed to be drowned. The entire country east and west for twenty miles was flooded, and the damage will be enormous, the railroads being the heaviest losers. The Erie railroad west of Warren, fourteen miles, and north of Sharon for the same distance, was washed out and orders were issued to discontinue all trains. Many residences here were flooded out, and the occupants were taken away by the police and fire departments. The Mahoning Valley electric lines were washed out, and all the bridges washed away.

The Catholic church at Niles was struck by lightning at the same hour, and nearly destroyed by fire, while business houses and manufacturing concerns were washed out. On every railroad leading to the city comes reports of extensive washouts and bridges swept away, and railroad officials say the loss will be the heaviest they have ever known.

At 10:30 Thursday night came the first tangible information of the damage done by the storm. Along Crab creek, running into the city from the northeast, along the Erie and Lake Shore railroads, and emptying into the Mahoning river, near the Lake Shore depot, a cloudburst occurred about ten miles out, and the water did not begin to rise much in the city until after 9 o'clock. At about 10 o'clock the water came down the valley into the city and formed into a flood, sweeping everything before it. The bed of the creek was not more than twenty feet wide, and the flood spread out to a width of about 2,000 feet. It rose quickly, and in less than thirty minutes the water was up to the second story of all the dwelling houses in the flooded districts and was still rising. It is a certainty at 11 o'clock that none of the people escaped from the houses. The whole district was covered with darkness except one small place where a lonely light was shown. Firemen, police and others were on hand quickly, but were powerless to rescue anybody, as not a boat of any kind was to be had in that portion of the city.

The cries of the people in the houses were heartrending to those who stood at the water's edge. Spectators were forced to retreat slowly on account of the gradually rising water. It is almost a certainty that many people were drowned.

It was midnight before boats were got to the flooded Crab creek district, and the work of rescue could be started. The boats were manned by firemen, who went to work with a will, but could not make rapid progress on account of the swift and dangerous current. Nine families were taken out of second-story windows within half an hour, and many persons were picked up clinging to debris. At midnight the water commenced to recede rapidly, and the creek was back in its natural course by morning.

STOP WORK IN ILLINOIS.

Striking Miners Induce Their Comrades to Leave the Pits.

Bloomington, Ill., July 23.—All is idleness, and so far, entire peace at the Bloomington coal mines. Not a miner, union or non-union, reported for work Thursday.

Dunfermline, Ill., July 23.—At the miners' mass-meeting held last night a secret ballot was taken, and the result showed that 105 voted to quit work and 48 voted to stay in.

Eureka, Ill., July 23.—Thursday about 4 o'clock 400 miners from Minonk, Rutland and Toluca marched into Roanoke to force the miners there to quit work. They took possession of the park, and at 8 o'clock called a meeting of the miners. The miners voted to strike, but immediately upon departure of the visitors another meeting was called and it was decided to supply the local trade. The men are in no condition to stand a strike.

Carlyle, Ill., July 23.—The mining town of Breese was on Thursday visited by a delegation of nearly 100 striking miners from Mentor, Alma and O'Fallon mines. They arrived on a night freight train. The Breese men yielded, and not a man handled a pick.

Colombians Make Merry.
New York, July 23.—A special to the Herald from Panama, Colombia, says: "The Sons of Colombia celebrated in an appropriate manner the eighty-seventh anniversary of their freedom from the Spanish yoke. The celebration was general throughout Central America."

Pull Pins Out of a Train.
Columbus, O., July 23.—A Corning, O., special to the Dispatch says the Ohio Central lines are hauling West Virginia coal. Last night at Glouster, O., the pins were pulled on a coal train by unauthorized persons.

STARVED FOR WEALTH.

Klondyke Miner Tells a Tale of Privations and Death.

Great Falls, Mont., July 23.—Frank Moss, an old-time miner in this section, who four years ago was one of a party of Americans to first visit the Klondyke country, has returned and tells a story of horrors and starvation seldom equaled. He describes Klondyke as a placer camp seven miles long and thirteen miles wide, located in a sink, walled in by bowlders of rock 3,000 feet high. Gold he says abounds, but no ordinary man can stand the hardships of the uncivilized region. In three years he saw over 2,000 graves made in the Klondyke basin, a large majority dying from starvation.

The richest section of Alaska, Moss says, is as yet undeveloped. It is 100 miles from Klondyke, and known as Black Hole of Calcutta. It is habited by ex-convicts of Bohemia, and murder and riots take the place of law and order. With the great crowds preparing to go to the scene now, Moss says hunger and suffering will be great when added to other hardships to be overcome by those who survive.

MILLER GIVEN ORDERS.

Admiral Soon Going to Hawaii—Has Positive Instructions.

New York, July 23.—Rear Admiral J. N. Miller was formally ordered to assume command of the Pacific squadron by the steamer leaving San Francisco August 5, according to a Washington dispatch to the Herald. He also received directly from President McKinley positive instructions as to the course to be pursued in Hawaiian affairs in case the necessity for interference arises.

Admiral Miller is directed by the President to maintain the status quo in Hawaii. Foreign aggression is to be resisted and internal trouble is to be suppressed.

Lutheran Conference Closes.

Milwaukee, July 23.—At Thursday morning's session of the northwestern Lutheran teachers' conference discussion was continued on the status of women teachers according to the Lutheran doctrine. An animated discussion followed. At the afternoon session, which closed the convention, a committee appointed by the local conference of Chicago to report a plan for the creation of a teachers' pension fund presented several suggestions, their chairman, F. Rausch, acting as referee. There was a short discussion of the project, and it was decided to bring up the matter again at the next conference, which is to be held in Chicago on corresponding dates of 1898.

Compromise for the Macabees.

Port Huron, Mich., July 23.—The Supreme Tent, Knights of the Macabees, spent Thursday discussing a proposition to re-rate all the members who joined the order prior to July 1, 1895, and place them on an equal footing with members admitted since that date. After an all-day discussion the whole matter was referred back to the committee on laws, with instructions to bring in a report providing that the old members pay one assessment per month, according to the rates they are now paying, and such additional assessments as may be required to pay their proportion of the mortality rate of the entire order.

Mayor Taggart Renominated.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 23.—The Democratic city convention Thursday was overwhelmingly in control of Mayor Taggart's friends and he was renominated practically by acclamation. The resolutions "reaffirm and emphasize the declaration of the last Democratic national convention in favor of the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the historic ratio of 16 to 1 without waiting for the aid or consent of any other nation on earth."

State Meet of Michigan L. A. W.

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 23.—The state meet of the Michigan L. A. W., with races on the side, opened today. In addition to the regular program Bald, Kiser and Cooper will race a mile for a $1,000 purse, and will go half a mile for the same amount Saturday. There will be several goes against records and the state championship will be pulled off.

Great Alarm in Havana.

Havana, July 23.—Much alarm has been caused here by the report that Gomez was marching on the capital. The news has not been confirmed, but the panic was heightened by the extraordinary preparations for defense ordered by Weyler and the sudden arrival from Cienfuegos of the captain general.

Will Continue the Fight.

Wheeling, W. Va., July 23.—It was definitely determined at a conference attended by President Michael D. Ratchford, of the Mine Workers; Eugene V. Debs and W. D. Mahone, of the Street Railway Amalgamation at Fairmont, to continue the fight in West Virginia and to make it more vigorous than ever.

Belleville Miners to Quit.

St. Louis, July 23.—Thursday it was decided by a unanimous vote that a general suspension of the Belleville mining district go into effect today. This includes mines at Collinsville, O'Fallon, Troy, Mascoutah and all other mines in the Belleville district, taking out 1,500 men. There were between 500 and 600 miners present at the meeting.

STATUE GREETED BY THOUSANDS

ENTHUSIASTIC RECEPTION TO MRS. JOHN A. LOGAN.

Cheers For "Little Jack"—Widow of the Great General, and His Grandson, Have Evidence of the Esteem In Which They Are Held—Governor Mount's Tribute.

Chicago, July 23.—The sun of Logan day set in roscate splendor. Its last rays ere it consigned to the past a day that will take its place by the side of other days that have lived because they commemorated great deeds glinted from a head of silvery white and cast a sheen over locks of glossy black. In the ebbing background as at the fore of the celebrating exercises stood the two contrasting figures of the day, the wife of the hero and the namesake grandson he never saw. The gaze of thousands was fixed upon the two last night as they received together upon a platform that stood in the center of the huge Coliseum. For two hours nearly 25,000 men, women and children waited outside and inside the immense building to shake the hand of the widow of Gen. John A. Logan. One by one they filed past Mrs. Logan, and until they were gone the hush remained unbroken.

JOHN A. LOGAN, 3D.

PAYS TRIBUTE TO LOGAN.

Gov. Mount of Indiana Expresses His Admiration for the Hero.

Chicago, July 23.—Gov. Mount of Indiana was profuse in his admiration of the monument, and in his praise of the success of the ceremonies. He paid a high tribute to Gen. Logan, saying:

"The military display was marvelous, and yet with all its vast extent, it but poorly showed the esteem the old soldiers hold for the one they were honoring. And not only the old soldiers cherish and love the name of John A. Logan, but the people of all classes have learned to think of him as a man altogether good. This is not only for his ability as a leader of soldiers, but for his unapproachable statesmanship. He was a patriot, loving his country above self-interest."

"I have seen him often in the service, and in his great, admirable military bearing he looked an unconquerable hero. To see the power of his face was to inspire men."

"Grandeur than this pageant is the place the name of Logan holds in the hearts of the people. He is respected as the greatest volunteer soldier the world has ever seen."

Gov. Mount and staff left for home at 9 o'clock last night.

MESSAGES COME FROM AFAR.

President McKinley and Senators Cullom and Mason Send Greetings.

Chicago, July 23.—President McKinley, while unable to be present personally, was in spirit with the audience who witnessed the unveiling. General Russell A. Alger, the secretary of war, who represented the president on this occasion, received the following telegram during the exercise:

"Executive Mansion, Washington, July 22.—General Russell A. Alger, secretary of war, Chicago.—Please convey to Mrs. Logan, and also to the committee in charge of the ceremonies, my profound regret that I cannot be present to do honor to the memory of the gallant volunteer soldier of two wars, and distinguished statesman, my personal friend, whose life and work today receive crowning honor. General Logan's achievements form a part of the most brilliant record of the reunited nation, and will live forever in its history."

"WILLIAM McKINLEY."

Both of the senators from Illinois, Shelby M. Cullom and William E. Mason, had hoped until the last to be able to be present at the exercises. Both, however, were forced by the press of public business to remain in Washington, but both sent messages regretting their absence, but expressing their hearty concurrence in the tributes that were to be paid General Logan.

Doolittle Falling Fast.

Providence, R. I., July 23.—Ex-Senator James R. Doolittle of Wisconsin, who is seriously ill at the residence of his daughter in this city, is falling fast. At midnight a bulletin was issued stating that his condition was less favorable than at any time during the day. No nourishment has been taken for two days.

SENATOR ALLISON IN A GREAT HURRY

PREPARED TO FORCE A VOTE ON THE TARIFF BILL.

Custom Officers Notified—Copies of the Bill Sent to All the Ports In Order That There Shall Be No Delay—Senate Investigating Committee Reports.

Washington, July 23.—The new tariff bill probably will become a law on Saturday. The treasury officials have made preparations to put the tariff act into operation immediately upon its receiving the signature of the president. Copies of the bill have been sent to customs officers throughout the country in anticipation of its passage, and it is expected that all will have reached their destination by the time the bill becomes a law. Collectors also have been instructed to make the change from the old law to the new upon receipt of trustworthy information, official or otherwise, that the bill has received the president's approval. Officials who have given the pending bill careful scrutiny state that it is exceptionally free from ambiguities and inconsistencies, and little trouble is anticipated in formulating regulations governing its administration.

Shortly before the senate adjourned Thursday Senator Allison, in charge of the tariff bill, made a strong effort to have a time fixed for the final vote on the tariff conference report. Failing in this, Mr. Allison gave notice that the session today would be protracted, with a view of securing a vote. It was the first definite movement made thus far toward bringing the debate to a close.

The debate on the report was participated in by Senators Chilton (Tex.), Jones (Ark.) and Pettigrew (S. D.), in opposition, while Mr. Aldrich took frequent occasion to defend the report against the criticism of these senators.

SUGAR COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Finds No Evidence Against Senator Aldrich and Closes the Case.

Washington, July 23.—The report on the sugar investigation, speaking of the charges which have received attention, says: "All these guesses, inferences and innuendoes are met in the most direct and emphatic manner by the statement of the senator from Rhode Island (Mr. Aldrich), the chairman of the sub-committee of the finance committee, having in charge the arrangement of the details of the tariff bill."

The report takes the position that the distinct assertions of senators is not to be outweighed by newspaper attacks instigated by men "willing to make statements to newspaper correspondents with a view to publication, and then, like assassins, who use the stiletto in the dark, skulk behind those correspondents and refuse to permit their names to be made known, even for purposes of evidence."

With reference to the proposition that inquiry be made whether the sugar trust "has contributed to or controlled the election of a senator in this body at any time," the committee expresses the opinion that "the time to investigate a subject of that character will be when some evidence is offered to show cause for the inquiry. If it be our duty, upon our own initiative and without the slightest warrant from any known fact, to investigate whether a corporation has contributed to or controlled the election of a senator in this body at any time, why stop at one corporation? Why not prepare a list of all corporations in the United States, call up the officers of each and examine into the question whether any such corporations have in any way contributed to or controlled the election of a senator at any time."

Senator Turley Takes the Oath.

Washington, July 23.—Mr. Turley, the new senator from Tennessee, reached Washington Thursday and was sworn in. He comes with the reputation of an orator of some qualities.

Lady Brassey Meets an Accident.

Melbourne, July 23.—Lady Thomas Brassey, wife of the governor of Victoria, has met with a serious accident. While out driving her horses, a spirited team, took fright and ran away. Lady Brassey was thrown out and severely injured, two of her ribs being broken. In February last Baron Brassey was thrown from his horse and badly hurt.

Oldest Convict Is Free.

Joliet, Ill., July 23.—After spending 23 years behind gloomy prison walls, William Richey, pardoned by Gov. Tanner, walked out of the penitentiary doors a free man. Richey was the oldest convict at the penitentiary, having been admitted July 10, 1874. He killed the city marshal of Cambridge, Henry county.

Turks Give Up Thessaly.

Athens, July 23.—The Turkish military authorities have ordered the surrender of the Volo-Larissa railway to the Greek railway officials within eight days. It is stated that the evacuation of Thessaly has already commenced. Eight regiments of Turkish troops from Domokos passed Thessaly en route for Ellassona. Several officers have started for Salonica.

STOP ALL WORK.

Striking Miners in Pennsylvania Threaten Violence.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 23.—The striking miners of the Pittsburg district were on the march again Thursday. Before daylight over 400 determined men from Finleyville, and near-by mines, marched to the Bunola pit, where 130 men were working. When they arrived the miners agreed not to go to work. The strikers made no attempt to damage property.

The arbitrators are still floundering around. Thursday they put in the time urging operators to call a meeting at which the uniformity conditions can be discussed. The majority of operators do not want a meeting, and said so. The arbitrators asked Mayor Ford to call the operators together, but the mayor refused. President John Binkley, of the chamber of commerce, did likewise. He also refused to call a meeting of the chamber to discuss the strike.

CHILD MURDERER CONFESSES.

Negro Boy Admits the Brutal Killing of Two Victims.

Wheeling, W. Va., July 23.—The murder of the two Mason children at Moundsville on Tuesday has been cleared by the confession of Edward Jones, a colored boy of 15. Some weeks ago Jones stole a halter from Charles Allen's stable. Stanley Mason, the 10-year-old victim of Tuesday's murder, knowing of it, told Allen, and Jones had to give up the halter. On Tuesday Jones went to the Mason house to take his revenge. He took heavy switches and beat Stanley and his 4-year-old brother, after removing their clothes, till the blood run from their bodies. Then he took a sharp pocket-knife and stabbed their bodies till he was tired and had made at least 100 cuts. To finish his bloody work Jones cut the boys' throats and mashed their skulls with a brier hoe.

Judge Showalter Is Firm.

Indianapolis, July 23.—Judge Showalter stands by his decision against the 3-cent fare law passed at the recent session of the legislature and aimed at the Indianapolis Street Car Company. In a decision handed down Thursday he upholds the injunction against its enforcement granted by him several months ago and denies the power of the state supreme court to override his ruling. Without wasting words on the origin of the controversy the opinion enters at once upon the legal questions at issue, and denies the proposition of the state that when a question has been adjudicated by the highest court of the state its finding controls the United States courts.

Deputy Sheriffs on Guard.

Fairmont, W. Va., July 23.—Armed deputy sheriffs now guard the Hite mine at King's, three miles above here on the Tygart's Valley river. Early Thursday morning the drivers at that mine joined the strikers. The operators secured new drivers in an hour, and at noon over half the miners came out. Then the second lot of drivers threw up their positions, and some of the men began stoning the miners, who were forced to leave their work. The operators called on the county officials for aid.

Condition of Indiana Miners.

Terre Haute, July 23.—The special commission sent by the governor to investigate the condition of the miners and their families reports that there are many cases of destitution, but that the distress is not general. The commissioners say that in a very short time there will be actual suffering, and they will report to the governor that the miners are verging on want; that an appeal for aid coming officially will be worthy of sympathetic consideration by the people of the state.

Gov. Drake Not a Candidate.

Des Moines, Iowa, July 23.—Gov. Drake made public a letter Thursday in which he withdraws from the contest for the Republican nomination for governor to succeed himself. The governor's health is so precarious because of his recent fall on the state house steps, and his physicians have given him so little hope of a recovery that he has concluded he will be unable to enter into a vigorous campaign, and thinks that it is best for him to retire from the contest.

Wage Scale Is Not Settled.

Milwaukee, July 23.—Vice-President Hickey of the Amalgamated association has returned from Youngstown. He said that the companies and the association had agreed on the scale for the tin and iron plate mills, but the companies would not sign the finishing scale. Another meeting is to be held early in August for the finishing mills.

Unknown Schooner Sunk.

Boston, July 23.—A dispatch from Nobske, Vineyard Sound, this morning says that an unknown three-masted schooner sunk during the night on Hedge Fence shoal. The same dispatch says that an unknown two-masted schooner is ashore on the middle ground near that port.

Miners Have Enough Money.

Columbus, O., July 23.—Miners' officials designate Thursday as the quietest since the strike began. Secretary Pearce is in charge of national headquarters, President Ratchford having gone to West Virginia. The miners confess themselves poor, but say they have enough for legitimate expenses.

ZUELKE IS CAUGHT IN GLENDIVE, MONT.

WISCONSIN MURDERER ARRESTED AT LAST.

Killed Edward Davis, a Markesan Farmer Over a Year Ago and Escaped On Horseback, Cutting All the Telephone Wires—Posses Were Determined to Lynch Him.

Markesan, Wis., July 23.—[Special]—Julius Zuelke, who murdered Edward Davis, a prominent Markesan farmer April 4, 1896, was captured yesterday at Glendive, Mont. Letters written by him to a friend gave the clue.

Zuelke has been working on a sheep ranch near Glendive.

After murdering Davis, he cut all the telephone wires running out of Markesan and then went to Cambria on horseback. In Cambria he abandoned the animal and boarded a train for Portage. Posses of armed men searched for him for several days and were determined to lynch him.

Furniture Factory Burned.

Green Bay, July 23.—The large plant of Kemnitz Furniture Company was destroyed by fire this morning. Spontaneous combustion was the cause. The loss is $10,000, covered by insurance. A large amount of stock for fall trade was burned.

Postmaster Under Arrest.

Shawano, July 23.—[Special]—Low Kuntson, postmaster at Pulisifer, was arrested this morning on the charge of embezzlement of postal funds.

Baraboo Man Ambushed.

Baraboo, July 23.—[Special]—E. C. Allen was attacked from ambush last night and stabbed in the right lung. He will die.

THE BASEBALL REPORT.

Results of Yesterday's Games Played in the Various Leagues.

The Colts won yesterday despite the pitching of Rusie, but gained nothing in position, as Brooklyn snatched a victory from Cincinnati in the last inning. Louisville lost, but retained eighth place by a narrow margin. Boston increased its lead over Cincinnati. The champions reached the same level as the Reds by winning one of two riotous games with Pittsburgh. Cleveland continued its fast work by downing the Phillies, who again yielded sixth place to Pittsburgh. The tail-enders played together at St. Louis and Washington won. Scores:

Verdict Against Bankers.

Muncie, Ind., July 23.—After fifty days' time spent in the trial, the suit of Jesse Cannady, receiver of the defunct Citizens' national bank of Union City vs. Nathan Cadwallader and others, for $50,000, came to an end Thursday night by the jury finding for the plaintiff, allowing the full amount. Cadwallader was president of the bank for many years, and when its doors closed nearly a year ago the depositors lost more than the amount asked for in the suit. It was claimed that the money was lost by gross negligence and misappropriations.

McKinley Plans a Vacation.

Washington, July 23.—President McKinley will leave Washington next Wednesday for his summer vacation on Lake Champlain, provided congress adjourns in time to permit it. It is the intention of the President to have all official announcements of executive action taken while on his vacation, made through the regular machinery at Washington, his purpose being to secure relief from the cares of business so far as possible.

MAY NOT BE BURIED FOR THIRTY DAYS

NEW BURIAL LAW STRANGELY CONTRADICTORY.

Permits Can Be Issued Only on the Certificate of Physician and That Need Not Be Sent In For a Month—Dr. George H. Fox, Enters His Protest

Two laws passed by the last legislature are bound to conflict. One is the burial law.

And the other regulates plumbers. The plumbing law provides for a board of plumbing commissioners in each city, to be chosen from the local plumbers. One member of this board is to be plumbing inspector and must pass on each job done in the city. In other words, the plumbing inspector judges his own work and that of all his associates on the board. There will be a fight in the very beginning, therefore, to see who gets the place of power. If fatal results do not follow at once, the first time any of the board has a piece of work condemned by the inspector a tragedy cannot possibly be averted.

Here we are, then, with at least one dead plumber. Now, what to do with him.

The new burial law forbids interments until the health officer has signed the burial permit. The health officer cannot issue the permit except on a report from the attending physician, and the attending physician need not make a report under the law for thirty days. The law gives him a full thirty days to send in a return that the health officer must wait for before issuing a permit for a burial.

Dead Plumber in a Vault

See what a lot of trouble the legislature has made!

By passing the plumbing law it has made sure of at least one dead plumber in each town.

By forbidding a burial until the doctor, in the course of thirty days, gets time to sign a permit, it has made the disposal of the dead plumber very difficult. The cemetery vault would seem to be the only recourse.

Undertakers are having no end of trouble with the new law. Physicians never have been used to rushing away from death beds to file a mortuary report. They thought they were doing very well if they sent a bunch of reports to the register of deaths once a month. And the new law does not change their obligations in the least. There is nothing to compel them to file an immediate report, so the undertaker now finds the hunting up of the physician an essential in every case.

Undertakers feel the greatest burden of inconvenience under the new statute. In case of deaths outside of cities the certificates must be signed by the attending physician and the permits are then issued by the town clerk. It sometimes happens that an undertaker gets eight or ten miles from Janesville and finds he must go back to get a death certificate from a Janesville physician before he can get a burial permit from the town clerk.

Physicians regard the law with an unfriendly eye. They say it compels the doctor called in at the last hour, perhaps, to certify to many things he knows nothing at all about. The following communication bears upon the subject:

Protest From Dr. Fox.

EDITOR GAZETTE—A few days since I was sent a blank to be certified by me stating age, occupation, married or single, etc., etc., ad libitum, ad infinitum, of a person who had died the day previous, and would not be permitted a burial the following day unless I signed this newly born state codicil. Not my signature alone, as the last M. D. to my deceased before he became deceased, but the health officer also had to put his signature—mind, he not knowing anything about such person, dead or alive.

I did sign the paper merely to avoid giving trouble to the undertaker and the immediate relatives, but in the future I give the public due notice I shall certainly ignore such unreasonable request.

Had the party died of pest house disease of any kind or had the relatives desired to ship deceased per rail, I should consider outsiders entitled to the signing of such permit, but this could not apply to the case cited.

It is quite an expense to be born yet it is not necessary to exploit the fact; but making a law permitting any downtown whistler to parade your obituary! I say to such law maker: Pooh! Pooh! Pooh! With due respect, GEORGE H. FOX.

LADIES PLAY GOLF FOR PRIZES

Competition of An Interesting Sort Arranged By the Sunnyside Club.

A ladies' competition is planned by the Sunnyside golf club. Three prizes have been offered—a pair of golf clubs for the first prize, four Silverton balls for the second and two Silverton balls for the third. August will be left for practice and the games for the prizes will be played in September. Half a dozen prominent golfers are developing among the ladies, some who have never played until this season showing an aptitude that makes more experienced players anxious for their laurels. A creak shot of one hundred yards, clear carry, was one recent manifestation of skill given by a Third ward young lady.

VERY MEAN MAN NEAR MILTON

Scattered Twelve Quarts of Bugs in a Neighbor's Potato Patch.

THE GAZETTE AGENCY
W. W. CLARKE, Manager.
Milton, Wis., July 23, 1897.

The meanest man in the state has been located. He lives in an adjoining town and won the championship by collecting a twelve quart pail full of potato bugs from his vines and judiciously distributing them in a neighbor's patch, who was not troubled with the pests. The bug fiend is still living, but Satan has a mortgage on him.

E. J. Green, of Janesville, spent Thursday in the village.

H. H. Harris of Janesville, was in the village Tuesday.

Dennis Davis is a visitor in Chicago this week.

AGED EVANSVILLE MAN DEAD.

George Albertie Passes Away—Marriage of an Oklahoma Teacher.

Evansville, July 23—George Albertie, aged 79 years, 9 months, died at his home in this city, Wednesday night at 11:45 p. m. Besides an aged wife, four sons and two daughters survive him. The funeral is to be held at his late home on Liberty street, at 2 o'clock Friday. He is one of the oldest settlers around here, having resided for years near Brooklyn.

Orville J. Green, of this city, and Miss Evaline Dryer, of Reedsburg, were married at Reedsburg Monday, July 19, '97. Both graduated from the Evansville seminary. For the past few years the groom has been a teacher in the government school at Oklahoma.

SOME LOCAL WHEEL NOTES.

O. P. McLEAN is "breaking in" a bicycle.

Miss Annie Connell has a handsome new wheel.

ENGINEER Edward J. Riley has a new Viking.

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Brand wheeled to Beloit yesterday.

CLARENCE Inman has made the purchase of a new bike.

E. E. SPAULDING wheeled it to Lake Koshkonong yesterday.

SIDNEY Smith of Madison was here yesterday on his wheel being on his way to Rockford.

ORION Sutherland has made nine century runs this season which now gives him a total of thirty-two bars.

Lew Van Wart of Evansville, with his convict bicycle suit attracted much attention from Janesville people.

SEVERAL of the local merchants report a brisk sale in wheels this week despite the fact that the season was supposed to be closed.

John Griffin of Janesville, Ohio, says: "I never lived a day for thirty years without suffering agony, until a box of De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve cured my piles." For piles and rectal troubles, cuts, bruises, sprains, eczema, and all skin troubles De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve is unequalled.

TWENTY FROM HERE FELL AT BULL RUN

JANESVILLE'S LIST OF WOUNDED IN FIRST BATTLE.

Names Are Familiar—Many Bower City Homes Were Made Sorrowful By the Opening Conflict of the Civil War—The Roll of the Dead and Wounded.

The thirty-sixth anniversary of the battle of Bull Run which occurred on July 21, was full of memories for the old settlers of Janesville.

Company D, Second Wisconsin regiment was there and 161 of the brave boys who had put aside their all and answered their country's first call were wounded, killed or met a fate worse than death—imprisonment on the banks of the James in that worse than Black Hole of Calcutta, Libby prison.

There are those in Janesville who remember the date as if it were but yesterday. The news of the engagement, the almost unanimous belief that the rebels would be silenced at one blow; then the hours of intense anxiety, filled with forebodings of evil, that seemed lengthened into days and which in fact merged into many before the full story of the bloody defeat and the wild retreat to Washington, reached home. With it came the word that this and that one had been left behind and slowly over all came the conviction that war was grim and real and that the Union could not be restored in a day.

One of the brightest records on the scroll of fame was made that day. Company D went to the front under George B. Ely, captain; Archie S. McLean, first lieutenant and B. F. Wade, second lieutenant. There were many who never came back. Some were brought home to die and others died in prison. The list of the company as compiled from records in the adjutant general's office of Wisconsin, follows:

Wounded and Missing.

Company D—Andrew Bean, prisoner; John S. Bell, wounded and prisoner; Cain Billings, wounded; Charles E. Brown, killed; Charles H. Cheney, wounded; John Donovan, wounded; George Griffin, wounded; John Hamilton, prisoner; John A. Jones, wounded and prisoner; Frederick H. Main, wounded and prisoner; Charles A. Mevis, prisoner; Hugh Murray, wounded and prisoner; Hugh D. Perry, killed; John Pranga, wounded; Henry Stillman, wounded and prisoner; Aramel Wilcox, wounded and prisoner; Jason Brown, killed; John McIntyre, wounded; William J. McRae, wounded and prisoner.

Many Familiar Names.

Quite a number of these names will be associated with Janesville people. John Hamilton, who was the step father of R. W. King, died in Libby prison.

Andrew Bean was Lew Trambie's step brother.

Fred H. Maine was the father of Elmer Maine.

John S. Bell was a carpenter here. C. H. Cheney was one of the well known Cheney family.

John Donovan lived on Hickory street and Cain Billings was up from the country near her.

POINTS ON THE "AD" MAN.

His Peculiarities Give a Basis For Numerous Pat and Painted Paragraphs.

It is not necessary to roast the writer of an ad in order to boil it down.

The man who wrote Ta-ra-ra-Boom-de-aye made himself famous, but the man who writes a sensible advertisement needs no Ta-ra-ra to boom him. His ads will do it.

There are three kinds of advertising—good, bad and indifferent. However, one sees so much of two kinds and so little of the other that one naturally thinks that but two kinds exist.

The way to girdle the world in eight days—place an ad in a good paper.

Money saved from your advertising appropriation is not often money made.

Good advertisers must know two things, that is, their goods and their customers.

If you advertise, make it a business. Never mix nonsense with advertising, for it has a bad effect on business.

Watch the merchant who is afraid to advertise. He is a "price coward" and afraid to sell his goods at low prices.

In writing your ads Be sure to condense And remember that levity Doesn't make cents.

Merchants, as a rule, always accept a moral, upright man or woman for a clerk, and why not select a moral paper for their ads?

The policeman arrests the law breaker, while the ad arrests the attention of the public.

The successful clothing merchant advertises for customers, and then he gives them fits.

To be a successful advertiser you must make people read your ads. That is one part of the business.

The memory of the buying public is just twenty-four hours long; that is why the wise merchant advertises every day.

Opportunity For Home-Seekers.

There are excellent opportunities along the line of the Chicago & Northwestern R'y in Western Minnesota and South Dakota for those who are desirous of obtaining first class lands upon most favorable terms for general agricultural purposes, as well as stock raising and dairying. For particulars and landseekers' rates, apply to agents of the Northwestern line.

THE TOWN TALES OF A DAY.

A WELL digger—the healthy laborer.

No, Maude, dear, all Cornishmen are not chiropodists. Don't be silly.

A POPULAR metamorphosis is that of a corkscrew turning into a snake.

The grass cutter may not be rich, but he handles lots of the long green.

The bass singer may be very swell, but it takes a tenor to be really high toned.

New peaches 20 cents per dozen, pears 20 cents per dozen, choice variety. Sanborn.

LARGE invoice of Monarch salmon 15 cents a can, two for 25, just received at Sanborn's.

A WOMEN may have her husband on a string but he doesn't feel any more attached to her for it.

It makes no difference to the glazier how cloudy the day is. He can always make the skylight.

EVERY 50 cent tea or coffee purchase at Sanborn's, gives you a ticket on the bicycle to be given away soon. Sanborn & Co.

FRANKLIN whole wheat flour, the coming flour, possesses all the food properties of the wheat kernel. Sanborn & Co.

"I bought myself a safety today," remarked Mr. Newlywed. "Oh, you mean thing!" exclaimed Mrs. Newlywed; why didn't you get me one, too?" "Because you don't shave," replied the brute, as he produced a razor.

WHEN we placed our order for a large line of hammocks the first of the season, we were assured that they were the best values at the prices ever offered. We have not been disappointed in them, they have sold rapidly and given the best satisfaction. We have all colors, with sticks, pillows and fringe, from $1 up. Sanborn.

AGAINST CHEAP CHICAGO TRIP

The C. & N.W. Refuses to Lease a Train For a $2 Excursion Saturday.

The Northwestern road refused to lease an excursion train to parties who wished to take 200 people from this city to the horse races in Chicago tomorrow. It was the intention of those interested to make a rate of $2 for the round trip. When information was sought at headquarters it was found that the officials objected to it for the reason that many of the merchants of Janesville had complained in strong terms about the railroad's running two many cheap rate excursions to Chicago. The assertion was made that thousands of dollars annually went from this city to Chicago when excursions were frequent, and that the policy of the roads was to prevent such a drain.

LIQUOR MEN MEET AUG. 16-18

Janesville Retailers Talk of an 1898 Gathering in Janesville.

Janesville will be represented at the meeting of the Wisconsin Retail Liquor Dealers' Association in Appleton August 16, 17 and 18.

A hundred delegates are expected from all sections of the state, the object of the meeting being the betterment of the business in general from both buying and selling standpoint. There is some talk of the meeting being held here next year.

MARSHAL FIELD TALKS TRADE

He Does Not Believe in Sitting Down With Folded Hands.

Marshal Field of Chicago, who as thoroughly as any other American business man knows whereof he speaks says the wise business man should spend twenty-five per cent. of his net income for advertising when business is slow less hesitatingly than he spends five per cent. when business is brisk. It is when business is dull that he most wants customers, and should make the most anxious effort to get them.

EXCURSIONISTS HOME AGAIN

Janesville Folks Who Attended Logan Exercises Were Greatly Impressed.

A goodly portion of the local delegation who attended the unveiling of the Logan statue in Chicago yesterday, returned home last evening, much pleased with their visit. During the unveiling exercises, the crowds were numbered by the tens of thousands, but in spite of this fact Janesville people could be seen at almost every turn. Other near-by towns sent good sized delegations, the rate of one fare for the round trip being a great inducement.

IS IT A TRIFLE?

That Common Troubles, Acid Dyspepsia or Sour Stomach.

Now Recognized as a Cause of Serious Disease.

Acid dyspepsia, commonly called heartburn or sour stomach, is a form of indigestion resulting from fermentation of the food. The stomach being too weak to promptly digest it, the food remains until fermentation begins, filling the stomach with gas, and a bitter, sour, burning taste in the mouth is often present. This condition soon becomes chronic and being an every day occurrence is given but little attention. Because dyspepsia is not immediately fatal many people do nothing for the trouble.

Within a recent period a remedy has been discovered prepared solely to cure dyspepsia and stomach troubles. It is known as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and is now becoming rapidly used and prescribed as a radical cure for every form of dyspepsia.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been placed before the public and are sold by druggists everywhere at 50 cents per package. It is prepared by the Stuart Chemical Co., Marshall, Mich., and while it promptly and effectually restores a vigorous digestion, at the same time it is perfectly harmless and will not injure the most delicate stomach, but on the contrary by giving perfect digestion strengthens the stomach, improves the appetite and makes life worth living.

Who Can You Believe ? ? ? ? ?
Were you to read the catalogue of every piano manufacturer in the United States you would find that about all claim to make the finest piano, the cheapest often making the greatest claims and having the most gilt upon the covers of their catalogues. You ask who can we believe. False prophets have made confusion in other days than these, so beware.

A personal examination of the interior of the many pianos will convince you that the REED & SONS PIANO is the finest finished piano in the world. You will admit this as you look into the matter more closely.

POLICE LOOK FOR T. E. JOYCE HAVE AGREED ON FIRE RATES

Young Man Disappeared From Home Monday—Suffered From Heat

Police in this part of the state are looking for Thomas E. Joyce who disappeared from Chicago on Monday, July 12, supposedly suffering from temporary aberration.

The following is the police description:

Thirty years old, five feet nine inches tall, 150 pounds, dark complexion, black hair, blue eyes, smooth shaven, beard black and grows fast, thin face and regular features, has scar on left thumb. Wore new steel gray suit, sack coat; blue gray negligee shirt; blue gray tie; black Fedora hat (old); black lace shoes.

The young man comes of a good family and when he left was suffering from the effects of the excessive heat.

SCOTCH FEAR BUFFALO BILL.

Do Not Wish to Have Games Too Close to His Date.

Those having the Caledonian games in charge this year are a good deal interested as to the chance of Buffalo Bill's coming.

The posters that have been displayed in all sections of the city say that he will be here "soon". The managers of the Caledonian games do not care to set a date and then find out that the Wild West show is coming close in their tracks. Many think the Wild West show will not visit Janesville this year.

Restful Nights, Days Free from Torture.

Wait the rheumatic sufferer who resorts to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. That this benignant cordial and purgative is a far more reliable remedy than colic and other poisons used to expel the rheumatic virus from the blood, is a fact that experience has satisfactorily demonstrated. It also enjoys the advantage of being unlike them—perfectly safe. With many persons a certain predisposition to rheumatism exists, which renders them liable to attacks after exposure in wet weather, to currents of air, changes of temperature, or to cold when the body is hot. Such persons should take a wine glass or two of the Bitters as soon as possible after incurring risk from the above causes, as this superb protective effectively nullifies the hurtful influence. For the functional derangements which accompany rheumatism, such as colic, spasms in the stomach, palpitation of the heart, imperfect digestion, etc., the Bitters is also a most useful remedy. It is only necessary in obstinate cases to use it with persistence.

PRATTLE OF YOUNGSTERS

The Bright Youngster—Mamma, if I am good will I go to heaven? Mamma—Yes, dear. The Bright Youngster—How'll I get back?

Mother—Now, Johnny, are you telling me the truth? Johnny—if I ain't, why do you want to make me tell another lie by asking me such a question as that?

Brother Tom—Cheer up, Bobbie; I've got good news for yer. De doctor told mom it was noomonia wot yer sick wid, an' dat she dasn't give yer a bath fer a month.

Nellie (aged 6)—Mamma, you said it was not right to tell tales about John.

Mother—Yes, that is what I told you, dear. Nellie—Well, then, I won't say nuffin', but I fink John ought to tell you how he scratched me pretty soon.

Papa—I am surprised that you are at the foot of your class, Tommy. Why aren't you at the head sometimes, like little Willie Bigbee? Tommy—You see, papa, Willie's got an awfully smart father and I guess he takes after him.

"Tommy had a bitter disappointment yesterday." "What was it?" "Tell about it, Tommy." "Th' paper said our preacher wuz goin' to exchange pulpits with 'nother preacher—an' I went t' church an' there wuz th' same pulpit—an' a 'nother man."

"Well, little chap," said the stranger in the family, picking up one of the children, "what are you going to be when you're a man?" "Nuffin'," said the child. "Nothing? Why so?" asked the stranger. "Because," said the child, "I'm a little girl."

Mother (coming swiftly)—Why, Willie! Striking your little sister? Willie (doggedly)—Aunt Frostdace made me! Aunt Frostdace—Why, Willie! I said if you did strike her I would never kiss you again. Willie (still doggedly)—Well, I couldn't let no chance like dat slip.

Little Teddie—I guess sister Laura likes you pretty well, Mr. Twiddle.

Charles Twiddle—Indeed? Come, now, my little man, what makes you think so? Little Teddie—When Sue Dollyers and her was talkin about you yistady she just kept callin' you 'bout sweet thing' all the time."

WOMEN DO NOT TELL THE WHOLE TRUTH.

Modest Women Evade Certain Questions When Asked by a Male Physician, but Write Freely to Mrs. Pinkham.

An eminent physician says that "Women are not truthful, they will lie to their physicians." This statement should be qualified; women do tell the truth, but not the whole truth, to a male physician, but this is only in regard to those painful and troublesome disorders peculiar to their sex.

There can be no more terrible ordeal to a delicate, sensitive, refined woman than to be obliged to answer certain questions when those questions are asked, even by her family physician. This is especially the case with unmarried women.

This is the reason why thousands and thousands of women are now corresponding with Mrs. Pinkham. To this good woman they can and do give every symptom, so that she really knows more about the true condition of her patients through her correspondence than the physician who personally questions them. Perfect confidence and candor are at once established between Mrs. Pinkham and her patients.

Years ago women had no such recourse. Nowadays a modest woman asks help of a woman who understands women. If you suffer from any form of trouble peculiar to women, write at once to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., and she will advise you free of charge.

And the fact that this great boon which is extended freely to women by Mrs. Pinkham, is appreciated, the thousands of letters which are received by her prove. Many such grateful letters as the following are constantly pouring in:

"I was a sufferer from female weakness for about a year and a half. I have tried doctors and patent medicines, but nothing helped me. I underwent the horrors of local treatment, but received no benefit. My ailment was pronounced ulceration of the womb. I suffered from intense pains in the womb and ovaries, and the backache was dreadful. I had leucorrhoea in its worst form. Finally I grew so weak I had to keep my bed. The pains were so hard as to almost cause spasms. When I could endure the pain no longer I was given morphine. My memory grew short, and I gave up all hope of ever getting well. Thus I dragged along. At last I wrote to Mrs. Pinkham for advice. Her answer came promptly. I read carefully her letter, and concluded to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After taking two bottles I felt much better; but after using six bottles I was cured. My friends think my cure almost miraculous. Her noble work is surely a blessing to broken-down women."—GRACE B. STANBURY, Pratt, Kansas.

memory grew short, and I gave up all hope of ever getting well. Thus I dragged along. At last I wrote to Mrs. Pinkham for advice. Her answer came promptly. I read carefully her letter, and concluded to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After taking two bottles I felt much better; but after using six bottles I was cured. My friends think my cure almost miraculous. Her noble work is surely a blessing to broken-down women."—GRACE B. STANBURY, Pratt, Kansas.

Good Printing...

Is like good painting—it demands and obtains a second glance. The second glance leads to thought about and knowledge of the thing portrayed, and then on to the artist or advertiser.

The kind of printing as well as the kind of painting that it pays to do and to have done is that which obtains this "second glance." Plenty of the other kind!

We are PRINTERS. Our work obtains glances of admiration, and thus leads on to the end desired. We don't do the "other kind." Put our job room to the test.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

1793—Roger Sherman, "signer," died in New Haven; born 1721.
1796—Lafayette's battle of Aboukir. Bonaparte, with a comparatively small force, almost annihilated the Turkish army of Mustapha Pasha. In a naval battle fought in the bay of Aboukir the previous year Nelson defeated the French fleet.
1816—Charlotte Saunders Cushman, actress, was born in Boston; died 1870.
1876—Filibuster shield (Mrs. Richardson), famous in the days of Scott, Wilson and Hogg and afterward a landlady of an anglers' resort in Selkirkshire, died at the age of 96.
1885—General Grant died in the Drexel cottage at Mount McGregor; born 1822.
1888—Courtlandt Palmer, agnostic and trimmionaire, died near Brandon, Vt.; born 1831.
1892—Port Louis, capital of Mauritius, devastated by fire; it was wrecked by a hurricane in 1892.

PEOPLE ARE AWAKENING.

Spain begins to realize the actual condition of affairs in Cuba. From the beginning of the insurrection the Madrid government has taken especial pains to misrepresent the situation in Cuba, manufacturing or magnifying Spanish military successes, and suppressing all accounts of insurgent victories. Weyler's absurd pretenses that certain districts in the island were "pacified," and that thousands of troops were about to be sent home were published in all the Spanish papers, and probably found ready credence for a time. The fact, however, that the insurgents refused to accept the "reforms" which Spain promised, coupled with the further fact that Spain has been trying to make loans to pay the expense of sending more troops to the island, have opened the eyes of the Spanish people to the real situation. When the masses in Spain learn, as they are beginning to do now, that the chances of subduing the rebellion are hopeless the Madrid government's difficulties will grow graver than they have hitherto been.

BOIES AND BRYAN.

Ex-Gov. Boies never can be forgiven by the silver democrats for the blows he has dealt to Bryanism in the last few weeks.

"The Chicago platform is no longer binding on the conscience, political or otherwise, of any democrat in the United States," he declares. "The issues made up by that instrument have been submitted to the only tribunal authorized to pass upon them, and they have been found against. On these issues we have had our day in court and have been beaten. New issues must be made for the future." This is sensible talk, and yet it will not be heeded. Bryan, of course, will stick to 16 to 1 and the rest of the absurdities and follies of the Chicago platform, for on an endorsement of that outgiving in 1900 depends his sole chance of getting the nomination in that year. The people may be called upon to defeat the riot and repudiation programme once more, and they will do it thoroughly.

NO TIME WASTED.

Congress has displayed vigor and promptness in accepting the conference committee's modifications of the tariff bill. The republicans have no majority in the senate, and consequently have had to rely on outside aid to enable them to carry the tariff bill through. This fact has made the measure a little different in certain particulars from what it would otherwise have been, and a little less satisfactory. But it was the best that could be had under the circumstances, and will be accepted as such by the republican party.

Because a man is an ardent sympathizer with the Cubans is no reason why he should not exercise ordinary business sense when asked by some unknown and irresponsible person to contribute money to some scheme alleged to be in the interest of Cuba.

There are some objectionable schedules in the Dingley tariff bill, but as a whole it will prove to be the best tariff law the country has ever had, as soon as it has been in operation long enough to catch up on the advance importations.

Japan seems to be after Hawaii earnestly enough but if the Japanese are still indulging hopes in that direction they have less sense than they have been credited with. Uncle Sam makes no bluffs at annexation.

The Virginia cat that is raising a brood of motherless young chickens reminds one of the Ohio democrats who are trying to coddle the few silver republicans of the state.

Evidence is accumulating that the British government sees the seal fisheries question in an entirely new light, as a result of Secretary Sherman's vigorous instructions to Ambassador Hay.

Some democrats are almighty afraid that the efforts to secure the cooperation of European nations for the establishment of international bimetalism will succeed.

The depreciation of gold dollars in consequence of Alaskan discoveries will be regarded in the light of a personal misfortune by William Jennings Bryan.

It would seem that Hon. Henri Waterson had quite enough on his hands in Kentucky without going back to the war for scrapping material.

A man with frost-bite medicine should sell out at three hundred cents on the dime if he gets in the way of Yukon gold hunters.

Hon. William C. Whitney is once more taking a feeding interest in the democrats of New York.

PROSECUTE EDITORS.

Bombay, July 23.—The government has decided to prosecute some of the editors of the newspapers in the Poona district which have been most conspicuous in the publication of seditious articles of late, calculated to stir up the natives against British rule.

There has been during the last ten days an alarming increase of deaths from cholera in the Bombay presidency and some recrudescence of the bubonic plague. On the other hand, as a result of the plentiful rainfall, the crop prospects throughout the presidency are improving.

STREW FLOWERS ON A GRAVE.

Salt Lake, Utah, July 23.—Ten thousand school children laid floral offerings at the base of the Brigham Young monument today, and then marched in the parade. The day opened cloudy and by 11 o'clock a light rain was falling. The program was carried out without interruption, however.

PREFERS DEATH TO DIVORCE.

Joliet, Ill., July 22.—Charles Stoll of Beatrice, Neb., who has been visiting relatives in Joliet, was notified yesterday that his wife had applied for a divorce. In the afternoon he went to Wilmington and there shot himself last night. He is not yet dead, but is not expected to recover.

WILL GET CROCKER'S MILLIONS.

San Francisco, July 23.—The will of the late Col. Charles F. Crocker was opened Thursday. All of the estate, valued at from $7,000,000 to $10,000,000, is bequeathed to his three children absolutely. No bequests are made to public, charitable or educational institutions.

THE CURRENCY MESSAGE.

Washington, July 23.—It is understood at the capitol that the president will send in his currency commission message immediately after the tariff bill is signed.

AN UPRISING IN HIS MIND.

"Speaking of the Cuban uprising and insurrection," said Wallace, "I shall never forget the one that occurred 20 years ago."
"Were you present?" asked Ferry.
"Very much so. It happened about five minutes after I had lighted one of my father's big, black Havana cigars."
—Commercial Enquirer.

TWO NEEDED IMPROVEMENTS.

"Brooks, how do you like my new coat?"
"Let me take a good look at it. H'm—Rivers, there are two things I could suggest that would improve its appearance. It ought to be a little fuller."
"Yes."
"And then you ought to fill it out a little better."—Chicago Tribune.

FEMININE DIPLOMACY.

A NICE POSITION.

"When I grow up, mom, I want you to make a minister out of me."
"Why, Johnny, I am glad that such is your desire. I will speak to your father about it."
"Yes'm; I want to go to Europe every summer."—N. Y. Press.

HE COULDN'T SAY.

The Lady—Is this novel a fit one for my daughter to read?
The Salesman—I don't know. I'm not acquainted with your daughter.—Up-to-Date.

AGREED WITH HIM.

An old country gentleman belonging to Lancashire, returning home rather late, discovered a yokel with a lantern under his kitchen window, who, when asked his business there, stated that he had come a-courting.

"Come a what?" asked the irate gentleman.

"A-courting, sir. I've courting Mary."

"It's a lie!" exclaimed the old gentleman. "What do you want a lantern for? I never used one when I was a young man."

"No, sir," was the young yokel's reply; "I don't think you did judging by the missis."—Tit-Bits.

HIS TROUBLE.

The boy came into the house weeping, and his mother was naturally solicitous.

"What's the matter, Tommy?" she asked.

"The boy across the street hit me," he replied.

"Oh, well, I wouldn't cry for that," she returned. "Show that you can be a little man."

"I ain't crying for that," he retorted. "Then what are crying for?"

"He ran into the house before I could get at him."—Chicago Post.

SUCH A NICE ARRANGEMENT.

"Isn't it an excellent idea for a girl to give a birthday party and invite as many guests as she is years old?" asked Miss Kittish.

"Yes, it is," replied Miss Clingstone.

"I am going to give one soon and discharge all my social debts."

"It will be rather a large party, won't it? I heard you say yesterday that you owed 37 calls."—Louisville Courier Journal.

TOMMY'S DISAPPOINTMENT.

A PATERNAL PRESCRIPTION.

Jack—Did the doctor tell you what was the matter with you?
Harry—Yes. He said I was in love and ought to get married.

Jack—Wasn't that rather a curious prescription?

Harry—Not at all. He thinks I am sweet on one of his daughters.—Harlem Life.

A YOUTHFUL CYCLIC.

Mother—You have disobeyed me, Tommy. Didn't I say no when you asked for another piece of cake?

Tommy—Well, maybe you think I don't know what a woman's "no" means.—Brooklyn Life.

NOT LIKE HER MOTHER.

Esther—My mother was renowned for her beauty; she was certainly the handsomest woman I have ever seen.

UNITED STATES CONSUL THREATENED.

Havana, July 23.—United States Consul Brice in Matanzas has armed the consulate in consequence of threats of a demonstration against Americans made by some of the ultra-conservatives in that place. Consul Brice does not believe that the threats will be carried into existence, but in view of the present state of feeling openly expressed by many Spaniards he deems precautions necessary.

"KID" MCCOY'S EASY VICTORY.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 23.—"Kid" McCoy put Dick Moore out in the second round of their fight before the Olympic Athletic club Thursday night. Moore was big and brawny, but proved no match for the "Kid."

TEACHERS TO MEET IN CHICAGO.

Burlington, Iowa, July 23.—The German Evangelical Teachers' Association of North America will hold its next annual session in Chicago in 1898, the twenty-fifth anniversary of its organization.

BURGLAR DIGS OUT BURIED PLUNDER

PAT BURNS WORKS FOR SHERIFF
ACHESON.

The Road From Indian Ford to Madison Is Bordered By Hiding Places From Which Jack-knives, Razors, Jewelry and Shears Are Brought to Light.

Pat Burns, who says Beloit is his home, is digging up stolen property with Sheriff Acheson between Indian Ford and Madison today.

Burns admits that he robbed George Lackner's store Sunday morning. He was arrested in Madison after wandering around the switch yards half drunk trying to sell knives for a dime apiece.

After a few hours in jail he confessed to the burglary and Sheriff Acheson was at once notified. Burns had been given a five days' sentence for drunkenness but when he agreed to show where the Lackner goods were hidden he was sent out with Sheriff Acheson at once. Every half mile or so along the road he would point out a place to dig and a batch of knives, shears or jewelry would be brought to light.

Burns took his plunder away from the Ford in an old lime sack and began to plant it as soon as he got out of sight. He and Sheriff Acheson had come as far back as Edgerton by noon, the Madison chief of police being with them.

Among the plunder that Burns took was the following:

Sixty dollars' worth of pocket knives of Hibbard, Spencer, Bartlett & Co's make; fifteen razors of various makes; fifty dollars' worth of jewelry, consisting mostly of plain, chased and set finger and ear rings; six pairs of men's shoes, one pair size 10, two pairs size 9, and three pairs size 8 1/2.

BOLD OPERATION ON A DWARF

Dr. Daniel H. Williams the Subject of Much Complimentary Mention

Dr. Daniel H. Williams, the well known colored surgeon who studied in this city is now surgeon-in-chief of the Freedmen's Hospital in Washington.

Washington papers devote nearly a column to a description of the daring operation by him a few days ago. The subject was a deformed dwarf of but forty-two inches in height, weighing not more than seventy-five pounds. Her case was complicated by convulsions resulting from diseased kidneys.

The girl's dwarfed stature and her otherwise deformed condition made her case one of great gravity, and the physician quickly realized that only a resort to the most heroic and daring operation would save the life trembling before him. The Caesarean operation was decided upon, and Dr. Williams invited Dr. J. Tabor Johnson, a consulting member of the hospital staff; Drs. William H. Warfield, Thomas Smith and Robert Tyler to be present. In the presence of them and others of the hospital staff the girl was placed on the operating table about two hours and a half after she reached the institution.

Only a few drops of ether could be given, the girl being almost unconscious. The Thomas method was the one chosen for the operation, and within forty minutes from the time the girl entered the operating room she was back in bed, fast recovering from the resulting shock.

Dr. Williams, before studying medicine, was a barber in this city, working in Harry Anderson's shop on North Main street.

JANESVILLE COULD HAVE WON

Records Made at the Y. M. C. A. Meet
Were Not Remarkable.

If Janesville had sent her best athletic talent to the state Y. M. C. A. athletic meet at Lake Geneva this week, she would have stood a good show of winning high honors. Secretary Judin says the records that were made there were not out of the reach of Janesville boys. The hammer throw and the pole vaulting contests would have been especially easy. Enough interest was not shown at the proper time, however, so no team was sent.

BEHRENDT'S HAND MASHED

It Was Caught Between the Bumpers of Freight Cars at Beloit.

John Behrendt of this city, had his hand caught between the bumpers of two freight cars in Beloit yesterday. The engineer started ahead and John ran nine car lengths before the train stopped and his hand was released. One of his fingers was badly mashed but no bones were broken. It was dressed last night by a Beloit physician.

THE members and friends of the Norwegian Lutheran Sunday School held their annual picnic at Crystal Springs park yesterday. Those who were present spent the day very enjoyably.

DAISY HURDLE or Annie Smith, the girl boot black left Janesville on the 9:30 train for Milton today. She says Janesville is a good town for shoe polish trade, however, and intends to come back for Sunday.

ONE of Kingling Brothers' employees has reason to be thankful that Janesville people are honest. He lost a pocket book containing one hundred dollars, and Professor John Smith found it, hunted him up and returned it.

BETWEEN forty and fifty couples of young people left the city on the steamer Columbia and proceeded to Crystal Springs park, where a few hours were very pleasantly spent in keeping time to the music of Huyke's orchestra last evening.

RECEPTION FOR TEACHERS

Enjoyable Gathering At the High School Building Last Evening.

An informal reception and musicale in honor of Miss S. Lillian Byington, who has had charge of the musical department of the summer school, was given at the High school building last evening. Those who took part in the program were Miss Baldwin, of Sparta; Miss Cecil Clapp of Brodhead; Miss Grace Lewis, of Albany; Miss Byington, and Miss Amy Bowles, and H. C. Buell, of this city.

Refreshments were served during the evening, this being a mark of the courtesy of Professor and Mrs. D. D. Mayo and Professor and Mrs. H. C. Buell. Professors Mayo and Buell, who were instrumental in arranging the affair, were the recipients of many compliments.

MADE A NEW BIKE RECORD

Evansville Riders Came to Janesville Over
Sandy Roads in 1:05.

A new bicycle record was established today between this city and Evansville when George Wiggins and Fred Gillman, of the Cut Off city, rode into town on a tandem after covering the distance of eighteen miles in one hour and five minutes. They timed from the hotel in Evansville to the city limits, over the Leyden route.

In the sand region they had but little of the trouble that a single wheel would experience.

THE VALLEY OF THE SHADOW

Mrs. Bridget Donahue.

Mrs. Bridget Donahue, aged seventy five years, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frank Corwin, 56 Race street at 7:10 this morning. She had been a sufferer from epilepsy and died in a particularly severe seizure today.

Mrs. Donahue was well known among the older residents of the city. She left two sons and one daughter—Thomas and James Donahue and Mrs. Corwin, all of this city. Funeral services will be held in St. Patrick's church Sunday at 2:30 o'clock.

NO WORD FROM ANDREE.

Copenhagen, July 23—[Special]—The report that Andree's balloon had been heard from, is untrue.

A Tale of the Tempest

The thunder thundered and the lightning lit, but the trolley car dashed on. The official of the back platform took three fares from a trio of frightened passengers and neglected to ring them up. "The lightning frights me not," said he, "for I am not a good conductor."

CLAMS IN DEMAND AT OTHER POINTS

ADDITIONAL INQUIRIES MADE IN JANESVILLE.

The American Pearl Button Manufacturing Company Sends a Letter To The Gazette Asking What Quality of Clams Can Be Found In Rock River.

Others besides Guttman Brothers are interested in Rock river clams.

This will be good news to the diggers who have fifteen or twenty carloads stacked up on the river bank around Janesville.

R. F. Finley did not receive clams today, having announced that he would do nothing more until his principals came. The hint of another concern's taking the field came in a letter to The Gazette from the American Pearl Button Manufacturing Co. The letter reads:

SABULA, IOWA, JULY 22, '97—EDITOR GAZETTE.—We have heard that Guttman Bros. have bought a good many clam shells on Rock river and have ceased buying. We have recently moved our factory from Omaha, Neb., to Sabula, Ia., but as the boys are not really broken in to gathering the clam shells, we like to buy some clams from outside. What we use at present is the large yellow-back sandshell. We can tell better what clams are worth after we have seen some samples. We would like to correspond with some people in your city about this.

Hoping to hear from somebody of your city soon, we remain, Yours truly,

AMERICAN PEARL BUTTON MFG. CO.

HELGERSON LOSES HIS FOOT

Gangrene Sets in and Makes Amputation
Necessary, without Delay.

As the result of an accident several months ago, Thomas Helgerson of the town of Janesville, today suffered the amputation of the greater portion of his right foot. Drs. James Gibson and W. H. Judd performed the operation. Helgerson, who is a prominent farmer, was thrown from his wagon to the ground as the result, it is said, of defective roads. He has been confined to his bed ever since. Gangrene finally set in, and amputation became necessary to save his life.

ENGINES BURN COSTLY COAL

C. M. & St. P. Men Told To Be Sparing of Fuel During the Strike.

Engineers on the St. Paul road have received orders to be as saving with coal as possible. This order is not issued for the reason that fuel is getting scarce but because the coal that is now being used is from the eastern mines and is more expensive than the coal usually bought in Illinois. The difference in cost is very perceptible in a week's figures.

BUMP BOAT AT KOSHKONONG

It Has Been Floated Up the River After Considerable Trouble.

Fay Bump's steamer which was built in this city and which has been christened the "Koskonong" is now floating on the waters of the lake. The boat weighs about three tons and to get it from this city to the lake is no small undertaking. At Indian Ford it had to be raised on jacks and set above the dam.

NEW SIGNS FOR ICE WAGONS

"Rock River Ice" the Legend Displayed in Compliance With Law

Hereafter Janesville ice wagons will carry signs reading: "Rock River Ice." This is in compliance with the 1897 state law which fixes things so the public shall know what ice they are getting. Being told this much customers are left to judge for themselves whether the ice is wholesome.

STODDARD WANTS A POUND.

Stray Dogs Should Be Locked Up the Second Ward Alderman Says.

Alderman W. B. Stoddard wants a city dog pound established. His idea is to have a public dog catcher and run the business here the same as it is in Chicago. He thinks the fines on captured canines would make the pound self supporting.

AT WORK ON THE NEW HOTEL

Edgerton Receives Substantial Assurance
That The Building Will Go Up.

Work has commenced on Edgerton's new $18,000 hotel. Four wooden building that have occupied the site are being removed and the work of excavating will commence at once. Plans for the building have been completed and call for a handsome structure.

STREET GANG OUT OF A JOB

Charles Smith Hired to Keep West Side
Pavements Clean.

Charles Smith has been hired to sweep the business streets of the west side daily, just as the east side has been looked after in the past. The twenty laborers who have been having a half day's work each week are anything but pleased.

Modern Orthodoxy.

New Pastor—As I understand there were some complaints as to the orthodoxy of my respected predecessor, I should be thankful for a few suggestions as to the views of the congregation on leading points of doctrine.

Deacon—Well, there is some difference of opinion, but as long as you stick to incidental protection and international bimetalism there's not likely to be any trouble.—N. Y. Truth.

WILL FIGHT CASE AGAINST THE CITY

HALLET & DAVIS' AGENT REFUSES TO PAY LICENSE.

Floor Space In a Bridge Store Has Been Leased For a Year and the Company Will Put In the Claim That the Law Governing Transient Dealers Has No Application.

Arnold Somylo, the Hallet & Davis agent whose planes are held by the city as surety for license money, will fight his case. His firm claims that Chief Hogan has no right to hold its goods and that there is no state law which classifies it with peddlars. Agent Somylo has received instructions to spend all the money necessary in fighting the matter.

Chief Hogan in speaking of the case says that the city will make a test case of the present suit so that the officers can tell in the future just where they stand.

The fact that the Hallet & Davis Company have rented floor space in the Morrissey millinery store for a year may have a bearing on the case. This is one of the points on which Mr. Somylo will rely in making up his defense. He cites a similar case in the northern part of the state where a city paid heavy damage for pressing a claim for license fees.

STRICKLER SORRY TOO LATE

Remorse Follows the Stealing of Gallons of Edgerton Whisky.

William Strickler is in a fair way to spend a term more or less lengthy as a guest of the state of Wisconsin. His love of either whisky or other people's property, or both, has been the cause of his undoing heretofore, and in all human probability will cause history to repeat itself.

His latest offense, as charged, is burglarizing a saloon belonging to William Schrab and Ole Sorenson at Edgerton, and acting therefrom a quantity of whisky variously estimated at from two to seven gallons. Schrab says that the maximum amount disappeared, while other authorities pretend to account for but two gallons.

In any event it is unlikely that the whisky or any part of it will appear in material form in the evidence, or, more properly speaking, exhibits, as Strickler, it is understood, will plead guilty to the charge of burglary, and take his medicine as he took the whisky, like a man.

He has notified the district attorney that he would like to plead guilty and that worthy has drawn the necessary papers. It is likely that he will be brought before the municipal court to plead tomorrow morning.

One of the facts relative to Strickler is that this offense is not his first. It seems that on March 12, 1895, he was sentenced to one year in state's prison by the municipal court. This off he like the one to which it is said he will plead guilty consisted of breaking into a saloon in Edgerton and taking therefrom a cask of the ardent, valued at $10.

thoughtful women were required for Christian service today, and that we must read up all kinds of books and know all kinds of painful things, my heart sank. It does not seem as if there was any place left for simple folk like me. Perhaps it would be better to give up going out altogether and live for Edward and Bertie. I can always do something for them, and their love will be enough reward.

"November 30.—I have not slept all night, for I made a dreadful mistake about a new book that every one is reading, and Edward was so angry. He did not mean all he said, but he never called me a fool before. Perhaps he is right, and it is hard on him, who is so bright. Sometimes I wish!"—And then there was no writing, only a tear mark.

Afterward he opened the letters that had come since her death, and this is what he read:

MY DEAR TREVOR—The intelligence of Mrs. Trevor's death has given me a great shock of regret, and you will allow me to express my sympathy. Many men not given to enthusiasm had told me of her face and goodness, and before I had seen your wife I knew she was a very perfect type of womanliness. The few times I met her Mrs. Trevor cast a certain spell over me—the nameless grace of the former days—and I felt myself unworthy in her presence. Once when a silly woman referred to one of the most miserable examples of decadent fiction, your wife spoke so nobly of true literature that I was moved to thank her, but I gathered from her face that this would not be acceptable. It seemed to me that the mask had fallen from a beautiful soul, and one man at least, in whom there is too little reverence, took the shoes from off his feet. Pardon me if I have exceeded, and believe me, yours faithfully,
BERNARD F. KYNAL.

The next was from the F. R. S.:

MY DEAR SIR—It is quite wrong for me, a stranger, to intrude on your grief, but I am compelled to tell you that an old fellow who only spoke to your wife once had to wipe his spectacles over The Times this morning. It came about this way. The lady had taken in to dinner at the Brownes the gabbled about science till I lost my temper and told her it would be a good thing if women would keep Trevor's fortitude was failing fast.

to their own sphere. Your wife was on the other side, and I turned to her in despair. She delighted me by confessing utter ignorance of my subject, and then she won my heart by some of the loveliest stories of peasant life in Devonshire I had ever heard, so full of insight and delicacy. If the parsons preached like that, I would be in church next Sunday. She put me in mind of a sister I lost long ago—who had the same low, soft voice and honest, trusting eyes. When she found I was a lonely man, your wife had pity on me and asked me to call on her. But I had to go to America, and only returned two days ago. I intended to wish her a happy New Year, but it's too late. I cannot get you out of my mind, and I thought it might comfort you to know how a fossil like myself was melted by that kind heart. Believe me, my dear sir, your obedient servant,
ARCHIBALD GILMORE.

The third was also from a man, but this time a lad in rooms whom Trevor had seen at the house:

DEAR MR. TREVOR—You perhaps know that Mrs. Trevor allowed me to spend an hour with her one evening when I felt downhearted or had any trouble, but no one will ever know how much she did for me. When I came up to London, my faith began to go, and I saw that in a short time I would be an agnostic. This did not trouble me so much on my own account as my mother's, who is dead, and she made me promise something on her deathbed. So I bought books and heard sermons on unbelief till I was quite sick of the whole business. Mrs. Trevor took me to hear her own clergyman, who did not help me one bit, for he was too clever and logical, but you remember I came home with you, and after you had gone to your study I told Mrs. Trevor my difficulties, and she did me more good than all the books. She never argued nor preached, but when I was with her one felt that religion was a reality, and that she knew more about it than any one I had met since I lost my mother. It is a shame to trouble you with my story when you are in such sorrow, and no one need tell you how noble a woman Mrs. Trevor was, but I could not help letting you know that her goodness has saved one young fellow at least from infidelity and worse.

You will not mind my having sent a cross to put on the coffin. It was all I could do. Yours gratefully,
GEORGE BEXSON.

There was neither beginning nor end to the fourth letter, but it was written in a lady's hand:

I am a clergyman's daughter, who left her father's house and went astray. I have been in the inferno and have seen what I read in Dante while I was innocent. One day the old rectory rose up before my eyes, the roses hanging over my bedroom window, the birds flying in and out the ivy, my father on the lawn, aged and broken through my sin, and I resolved that my womanhood should no longer be dragged in the mire. My home was closed years ago, I had no friends, so I went in my desperation to a certain institute and told my case to a matron. She was not unkindly, but the committees were awful, without either sympathy or manners, and when an unmarried woman wished to pry into the details of my degradation—but I can't tell a man the shame they would have put upon me—my heart turned to flint, and I left the place. I would have gone back to my life and perished had it not been for one woman who followed me out and asked me to go home with her for afternoon tea. Had she said one word about my past I had flung myself away, but because she spoke to me as if I were still in the rectory I could not refuse. Mrs. Trevor never once mentioned my sin, and she saved my soul. I am now a nurse in one of the hospitals, full of peace. As long as I live I shall lay white flowers on her grave, who surely was the wisest and tenderest of women.

Trevor's fortitude was failing fast before this weight of unconscious condemnation, and he was only able to read one more, an amazing production, that had cost the writer great pains:

HONORED SIR—Bill says as it's tiring too much on the likes of me to be addressing you on your missus' death, but it's not her husband that was the best friend. When Bill had the runabout, I couldn't do no work, and Byby was a-growing that thin you could see thro' 'im. Mrs. Byles says to me, 'Mrs. 'Awkes, you goes to the Society for the Organization of Female Tailors.' Says I, 'Wot is that?' and she declares, 'It's a set of ladies o' wants to 'elp women to work, and they'll see you gets 'it.' So I goes, and I saw a set of ladies sitting at a table, and they looks at me, and one with spectacles and a yoke like an old saw arsk me, 'Wot's your name?' and 'Ow old are you?' and 'Ow many children have you?' and 'Are your 'abits temperate?' and then she says, 'If you pay a shilling, we'll put your nym down for work has an unskilled worker.' 'I 'av'n't got a shilling, and Byby's dying for want of food.' 'This ain't a poor-house,' says she. 'This is a Bazaar.' When I was a-going down the stairs, a lady comes after me. 'Don't cry, Mrs. 'Awkes,' for she had picked up my name. 'I've some charring for you, and we'll go to get something for Byby.' If ever there was a hangel in a seal skin jacket and a plain little bonnet, but the true lady had hoyer, 'er name was Mrs. Trevor. Bill, he looked up from that day and was on his keb in a week, and little Jim is the biggest Byby in the court. Mrs. Trevor never rested till I got three hoffer to clean, to say nothing of 'elping at cleanings and parties in 'ouses. She was that kind too and free, when she'd come in with noon of some hoffer. 'We're organizing you, Missus 'Awkes, just splendid,' with the prettiest bit smile. Bill, he used to say, 'Er 'usband's a proud man, for I never saw the like o' her for a downright lady in 'er ways,' and 'e knows, does Bill, being a hobnob. When I told 'im, he was that bad that 'e never put a match to pipe the 'ole night. 'Mariar,' 'e says to me, 'you and me 'as seen something of her, but you bet nobody knew wot a saint she was 'cept 'er 'usband.'

Trevor could read no more, for it had dawned at last upon him that Christ had lived with him for more than ten years, and his eyes had been holden.

THE END.

Took Three Prizes.

Miss Gertrude Pearson Jackson carried off the highest honors at the annual commencement exercises of the College of Physicians and Surgeons in Boston on June 16. She was the only woman in the class of 1897. It numbers ten, all of whom were candidates for the degree of doctor of medicine, but because Miss Jackson lacks a few months of 21, the required age, the degree of doctor of medicine could not be conferred. It will be presented to her later. The exercises took place in the presence of about 200 admiring friends and students. The members of the faculty occupied seats on the platform. There were numerous bouquets of flowers within the hall. Miss Jackson received three prizes in succession. The first was for the highest rank in the course, the second for excellence in obstetrics and the third for excellence in the special course in medical chemistry. She received the warm applause of the audience.

A Hint For Window Boxes.

The sweet pea may be used as a lovely and fragrant screen against the ugliness which unfortunately is visible from many town windows. If you should have a long, narrow box and a simple trelliswork of ordinary wire or twine, well pulverized and enriched earth with a small addition of sand, the sweet pea will flourish, provided there is not too much sunshine. The sweet pea vine is easily scorched, and if it does not die it loses its beauty by too great exposure to the heat. It makes a beautiful window and a fragrant room, and if carefully treated it will provide plenty of blossoms for cutting.

A peculiarity of sweet peas is that the higher they are trained the more profusely they will bloom, and a constant succession of flowers is secured if all the fading blossoms are removed before they go to seed.—American Queen.

A Catholic Woman's College.

The first American Roman Catholic college for women is to be founded in Washington. Twenty acres of land near the Roman Catholic university have been purchased by the Sisters of Notre Dame, and they will build there a college for women under the auspices of the university. The new institution will be called Trinity college, and the first building will accommodate 100 students. The plans have been drawn up, and within a month ground will be broken. No student under 18 years of age will be admitted. Cardinal Gibbons has given his warm approval of the project. The sisters expect to have the college completed and in full running order for the beginning of the school year in 1898.—New York Sun.

An Expert Mathematician.

Miss Lilian Pike of Arkansas, a clerk at Washington in the office of the coast and geodetic survey, has just defeated the brightest young man in the office in a difficult mathematical examination. Secretary Gage needed an expert mathematician in the treasury, and the young man and woman were both applicants. To decide which should have the place he directed a difficult examination, in which Miss Pike got a percentage of 94 and the man 84. The young woman got the place.

FACTS AND FANCIES.

Fuddy—Gorton must think the world of his wife. He is always talking about her. Duddy—Just wait until other folks begin to talk about her, and then see how Gorton will like it.

Hicks—I suppose you are fond of Wister's writings? Wicks—On the contrary, I never read them. The fact is, they have become so popular that they are dreadfully tiresome.

In answer to the question, "Did the Romans smoke?" Mr. Putson Calls says that personally he never burned any Romans, and he is sure none of his friends have burned any, so he cannot tell whether they smoked or not.

Theodore—What was the verdict in that suicide case? Arthur—They came to the conclusion that the man did it himself. Theodore—That was unkind, don't you know? Even in case of suicide a man should be given the benefit of a doubt.

Mabel—Did you feel hurt at what pap said when you asked him for my hand? Milton—I didn't feel hurt so much by what he said as I did by the gesture that accompanied his remark. It was a Delsartian gesture, you know, executed with the foot.

Philanthropist—To what do you ascribe your presence in this place? Convict—It is all owing to a police officer that I am here. Philanthropist—Indeed! Yours must be an interesting case. Convict—It was all along of the copper's being so slow. If he had got along five minutes sooner I shouldn't have had a chance to get at the feller's pocket that I was going through. THE SHAKERS DO THEIR DUTY.

"If a man discovers a valuable medicine," said Horace Greeley, "it is his duty to advertise it." Yes, and at once, for suffering demands the speediest relief possible. But let the man first be sure. Suffering had better wait than be deluded by false hopes. Medicine, like surgery, must often seem cruel in order to be really kind. On this principle the Shakers, of Mt. Lebanon, N. Y., withheld their great indigestion and dyspepsia cure from the public for several years. With them right-doing is everything—money comparatively nothing. Hence the popularity and success of whatever they offer for sale. Having satisfied themselves of the merit of their medicine by employing it in the worst cases of digestive disorders in their own vicinity for years, they did their duty—they advertised it, under the name of the Shaker Digestive Cordial. In all cases where there is distress after eating, pain in the stomach, chest and back, aversion to food with the resulting symptoms, such as head ache, furred tongue, eructation of gas, with weakness and loss of flesh, etc., the Cordial has a most happy effect. Being itself a digested food with power to digest other foods, it relieves the weak and possibly inflamed stomach of the labor it is in no condition to perform, gives new strength to the body and presently restores to the digestive organs their normal vigor. Taken immediately after eating this remedy insures the digestion of the meal and prevents the fermentation of the food which is the source of most of the afflicted symptoms which accompany dyspepsia. It is also as agreeable to the taste as it is potent as a medicine. To show their own confidence in it, and to hasten its universal adoption, the Shakers authorize druggists to sell trial bottles at the nominal price of ten cents.

IN INSOLVENCY.

CIRCUIT COURT—ROCK COUNTY.—In the matter of the Insolvency of E. R. Inman, by whom a petition for a discharge from his debts, under chapter 129 of the Revised Statutes of Wisconsin, was filed on the 23rd day of June, 1897.

To all whom it may concern: Pursuant to an order made in the Circuit Court for Rock County, Wisconsin, dated June 28th, 1897, all creditors of E. R. Inman, of Janesville, Wisconsin, are required to show cause, if any they have, before said Court at the Court House in the city of Janesville, Rock County, Wisconsin, on the 26th day of September, 1897, at 9 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, or as soon thereafter as the matter of said petition can be heard, why said E. R. Inman should not be adjudged to be an insolvent debtor within the purview of Chapter 129 of the Revised Statutes of Wisconsin, and the several acts amendatory thereof, and why an assignment of the estate of E. R. Inman, such insolvent debtor, should not be made, and why he should not be discharged from his debts, and why such other and further order should not be made as shall be just and equitable in the premises.

GAZETTE PRINTING CO.

A Little More Cost Brings Big Profits.

The addressing, folding, inclosing, sealing and stamping of five thousand circulars, with postage, will cost at least $65, whether the circular is good or bad. Notwithstanding this fixed charge, some strive to save a dollar or two on the cost of printing, although the goods advertised are to be judged by the character of the printing, just as a house is judged by the character of its salesmen. Good printing costs but little more, and that "little more" brings greater returns than any other part of the cost. Order your printing where good work is assured.

A common little two panel clothes-horse about 3 feet high is the best thing for the foundation upon which to build this screen. It can be bought at any house furnishing store for 50 cents, or even 25 cents. Stain it or enamel it and let it dry thoroughly before mounting the materials, which, however, may be prepared while the paint is drying. The legs of the screen should be cut off just below the first crossbar, so as to bring it near the floor. A stiff pasteboard or thin wooden panel fitting into each side of the screen should be covered with some heavy material in plain color, and when put in place should be at-

FASHION AND ELEGANCE.

Care in Dress Should Not Be Neglected.
Short Jackets.

A fashionably dressed woman is by no means necessarily an elegant one. There is something necessary to the latter besides expensive clothes in the prevailing mode, costly perfumes and jewelry of the newest design. Elegance consists in personal refinement, an intuitive perception of the best way of adapting the fashion of the moment to the requirements of the individual, unerring taste and so unprejudiced a knowledge of one's beauties and defects that the latter are successfully concealed, while the former are brought into greater evidence. In addition, a good carriage and an ability to wear one's clothes without thinking of them are requisite. A woman may be fashionably and expensively dressed and yet be vulgar in the extreme, as is proved every day.

A French writer declares that for a woman to cease to care for her clothes is for her to cease to be a woman. The Gallic point of view, especially of women, is not necessarily the correct one. At the same tached to the next to the top crossbar by a series of large brass headed nails holding a band of fancy ribbon. The lower corners are held in place by cases tacked to the framework, into which the panel slips. Across the top, hung on a wire just below the finishing rail, is a sort of valance of figured stuff, hiding another wire, on which stockings may be hung to air when first brought up from the laundry. On each panel is a bag, one being full and gathered top and bottom, a strong elastic being run through the casing. This will hold miscellaneous work, bits for patching, etc. The other pocket is square and flat like a portfolio, and the things which one likes to have handy can slip in here, for they are easily obtained when needed.—American Queen.

A Suggestive Incident.

A New York woman recovering from a long illness felt the need during her sojourn out of town for the summer of a young woman who could look after her children of 5 and 9, in addition to the nursemaid, who was to care for the baby of a year. Not wishing to have an expensive professional governess or companion, she sought to fill the place by inquiries among her friends. The result was overwhelming. Not one but dozens of young women came to her in early June, many who were pitifully ready to take any decent occupation that would tide them through the summer's dullness. Six such visitors called at the house in one day, all with a pathetic attempt at bravery until the sympathy which they met broke them down, when they confessed their straits. Two begged to be taken without compensation, and all were willing to go for a trifle of wages. Several were young women students who had come from a distance to the metropolitan center at a great sacrifice on the part of home friends and could not go back for the summer or expect more assistance. The knowledge of so much need which she could not relieve nearly prostrated the tender hearted woman, who felt that in finally taking one she left many bitterly disappointed. The incident suggests the question, Are we getting too many ambitious, capable young women in the wage earning field?—New York Post.

Mrs. Oliphant's Great Suffering.

It was only the other day that a weekly paper here had on its reviewing shelves at one time three new books by Mrs. Oliphant, yet you learn now that she was suffering cruelly for years, culminating practically in her death warrant 14 months ago. Her wonderful courage to the very end was worthy of her wise and splendid energy displayed all through her life. One may feel that she wrote far too much and yet marvel at the fine level of solid excellence maintained in it all. She was to the last the warm hearted, helpful friend of scores of struggling young women and the eager champion of good causes wherever to be found, yet she shrank from publicity as keenly as if her name had never been mentioned in print, instead of adorning more than 100 title pages.—Exchange.

Hat Boxes.

Boxes are now made for women's hats exactly like, in general style, to those long bought for men's high silk hats. They are of leather and lined with soft quilted silk, but must, of course, be of a much larger shape to hold the biggest possible picture headgear. "Tea baskets" are another English novelty, like a bag in form, but so constructed as to make a safe receptacle for cups and saucers and alcohol lamp, for a couple of persons bound for an afternoon in the woods or on the shore.

An Authority on Hygiene.

Mrs. Nellie Sawyer Kedzie is to be professor of household economy and hygiene in the Bradley Polytechnic institute in Peoria, Ills. Mrs. Kedzie leaves a similar chair in the Agriculture college of Kansas. She was the wife of Robert F. Kedzie, professor of mathematics in the Mississippi Agricultural college. After his death, in 1881, Mrs. Kedzie started the household economic department in the Kansas college and has conducted it ever since.

BLUE CLOTH GOWN.

time, every woman is more charming for taking pains about the details of her costume.

The short jacket is very much worn now and is a most convenient garment for all ages. It is closely fitted to the figure at the back, while in front it is usually loose and has revers, large or small.

Today's sketch shows a costume of deep blue cloth. The skirt is adorned around the foot by seven bands of navy blue mohair braid, and inside the hem is a ruffle of gold colored satin. The jacket, which is close fitting at the back, is belted with gold colored silk belting, which passes inside the fronts, leaving them loose. The sleeves are small and plain, and the revers are tabs of white pique. The jacket is trimmed with navy blue braid, and the chemise is of pink batiste. The cravat and sleeve frills are of white mousseline de soie.

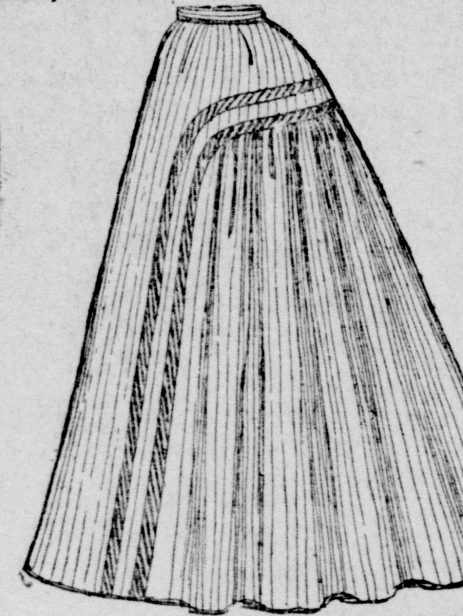

JUDIC CHOLLET.

SUMMER STYLES.

Tailor Made Pique Dresses—Some New Styles in Skirts.

Sleeves continue to extend over the hand in a bell shape, points, squares or scallops, in spite of the warm weather. The wrists are finished with one or more frills of lace or platings of mousseline de soie or tulle. As the sleeve is tight around the lower part of the arm it is usually necessary to leave the inside seam open a very little at the lower edge to insure the easy passage of the hand. This opening is fastened by hooks and eyes.

Tailor made jackets now have the sleeve made in two pieces instead of one, as a rule, since smaller sleeves are fashionable.

NOVEL DRESS SKIRTS.

and the one piece sleeve never fits as closely as the two piece one. The under piece is smaller than the upper only above the elbow. Below it the upper and under parts are of the same size. The outside seam is often left open a little at the wrist, not of necessity, as the sleeve should be of ample size to let the hand through without any such provision, but simply as a finish and to show the silk lining or serve as an excuse for the placing of ornamental buttons. The lining of jacket sleeves is out-exactly like the outside, and there may be plenty of room for the sleeve of the gown beneath. The fullness of the top of the sleeve is laid in flat plaits instead of being gathered, as is the case with dress sleeves. Tailor made costumes of pique, white, colored, figured or striped, are much worn. Collars, cuffs and cuffs of the jacket are often of pique of a different color from the rest of the costume, blue, buff or pink with white additions being particularly fresh, cool and pleasing in appearance. White pique jackets also accompany skirts of varying kinds, the chemise being of a contrasting color.

Skirts are growing more varied in style. Some are gathered all around the waist; others, never, are plain and close about the front and hips and gathered very full at the back, while the latest novelty is the skirt which is illustrated today. It is quite plain in front, but is cut with a sort of yoke passing from the hips to the back, to which the side and back breadths are gathered. The effect is decidedly new, and the skirt may be made in any sort of material. Very thin goods are less desirable for it than others, as sheer goods do not appear to advantage made plainly.

Reasons Why Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is the Best.

1. Because it affords almost instant relief in case of pain in the stomach, colic and cholera morbus.

2. Because it is the only remedy that never fails in the most severe cases of dysentery and diarrhoea.

3. Because it is the only remedy that will cure chronic diarrhoea.

4. Because it is the only remedy that will prevent bilious colic.

5. Because it is the only remedy that will cure epidemic dysentery.

6. Because it is the only remedy that can always be depended upon in cases of cholera infantum.

7. Because it is the most prompt and most reliable medicine in use for bowel complaints.

8. Because it produces no bad result.

9. Because it is pleasant and safe to take.

10. Because it has saved the lives of more people than any other medicine in the world.

the eating is half the fun

At the picnic or during the outing. You know that and you also know that the most wonderful appetite is rapidly developed on even the lightest, most dyspeptic eater of the crowd. The most complete picnicers' and campers' outfit in the city is found at Sanborn's. You can get your entire line of eatables, including everything. Campers are buying supplies of us every day. We can please you as easily. :: :: ::

A Record Breaking Wash Goods Sale...

All the season we have been telling you that Wash Goods were never cheaper, and it was a fact, for we made some very fortunate purchases, and were able to name some astonishingly low prices. Now prices have gone still lower, for mill agents and jobbers have been offering their remaining stock at half and third early season prices: As is usual when there is a good thing to be had, we got in on it; and today offer several remarkable Wash Goods. If you do not pay more than five cents a yard it will buy a dainty fabric which ordinarily retails at ten cents, and all other prices will obtain equally desirable values.

FIRST is twenty-five pieces "Lotus Lawns," all white grounds, with neat figures, (these are not short lengths, nor end of stock, but are fresh new goods in full pieces) all you want of them, per yard--3 cents.

SECOND--Dimities in stripes, figures, scroll patterns, &c; all the desirable colorings; fifty pieces to select from. All on the counters, per yard--5 cents.

THIRD--150 pieces of the season's chicest wash fabrics, that have been retailed at 12 1/2 and 15c. Organdies and dimities, light and dark grounds; many that you have not seen before this season. They are all, per yard--7 1/2 cents.

Don't Forget the Shirt Waists....

The great sale is still going on, and we are today showing more new Shirt Waists than you have seen in other stores at any time this season. The pick of the line at the town talk prices.....39 & 59c
